As a performing artist in my city of Calgary, I noticed that there are opportunities for artists but no medium to communicate this information to the public.

I will create a website for artists to help them know where to apply for performances, shows, and work. This will help artists learn about all the opportunities around them. I will also be reaching out to the owners of venues for these events to get permission to post their platform and to learn more about the requirements for the performance so I can add it to the information on my website.

I will be responsible for
